

The Feathercraft HERON EXPEDITION KAYAK Takes Flight

Length : 5.4m
Length : 17' 7"

Beam : 61cm
Beam : 24"

Weight : 24.5 kg
Weight : 54 lbs

BIG BOLD BEAUTIFUL

The Heron brings together the best of the Khatsalano and our traditional K1 Expedition touring kayak.

The K1 has been our signature, large volume, expedition kayak since our inception in 1980. But there was a compromise in speed. The Khatsalano proved that folding skin kayaks are high performance. But there was limitation with gear storage. The Heron is both bounty and beauty in one. With the increased water-line, and a raised "clipper" shaped bow, the Heron has a greatly enhanced cruising speed over the K1. A narrower water-line beam than the K1 makes it playful when paddled empty; and a fast cruiser when loaded. Two stern access hatches make it easy to use all available space for extended journeys. The initial stability is less than the K1. But with the pronounced V-shaped hull, the Heron has superb secondary stability, particularly when loaded in heavy seas. The Heron will suit the larger, tall paddler. It has a deep and long cockpit for a roomy fit and easy entry and exit.

All of the best features that you've come to expect from Feathercraft are here : welded urethane skin, deck reinforcement strip, solid urethane wear strips on the hull, anodized aluminum framework, HDPE crossribs, spray skirt, sea sock, exceptional rudder with pivot pedals, built in coaming with bracing bars. And it still all packs away into a single travel-style backpack. A little pre-trip re-organizing of a couple of frame parts will allow you to meet airline baggage limits.